

Fascism Came to the Election

By Lyndon H. LaRouche, Jr.

The following is an excerpt from an upcoming report to debut on LaRouchePAC.com in the coming days. Stay tuned to LaRouchePAC.com for updates.

There is no room for doubt that the entirety of the new Senator-Elect for Kentucky, Rand Paul, or, at least his mouth, is a fascist with expressed, genocidal intentions against the great mass of the citizens of the United States. Unfortunately, Rand Paul is not the only case of a nominal, or actual Republican of expressed fascist inclinations who has been swept into the incoming body of the U.S. Congress in the latest round. President Barack Obama and Rand Paul are, in practice, representative of one and the same political party, what is in fact a fascist partisanship, at this time. For clarity, might we not simply give such a unity its own proper, distinct characterization, as the fascist party?

One fortunate side of this electoral mishap, if any hope is to be found, lies in the fact that much of the support for that so-called Republican slate, was based upon a most unfortunate misunderstanding among a very large portion of the vote cast for the Republican slate.

Much of the vote garnered by the Republican slate in that election, was contributed by what had been well-meaning supporters of the Republican Party's "Tea Party" group, a group which had been attracted by, and also confused and blinded by its Obama-provoked hatred against the evil role of a Democratic Party operating under the Presidential control of the increasingly despised, President Obama, regime.

Secondly, once the ordinary portion of the vote for the Republican slate were to awaken to recognize its terrible, current mistake, the presently over-confident pack of incoming Republican representatives, such as a top-down part of the "Tea Party" group, will find its own apparent base coming soon to hate the fascist component of the Republican vote, that even more bitterly than the Obama Democratic administration, than even the administration of the insanely evil Obama against which many Tea Party supporters had thought they were resisting in this most recent election. We thus seem to have entered a phase, since the Presidential candidacy of former Vice-President Gore, at which the candidate gaining today's election, is the next candidate for enjoying popular contempt in the ensuing round.

Thus, had former President Bill Clinton not suffered a heart ailment at the time he did, President George W. Bush, Jr., would have been replaced by Senator John F. Kerry, even despite the important role of the Bush administration's cover-up of the truth concerning the authorship of "9-11."

In the meantime, thus far, unfortunately, the Obama Administration and the pro-fascist Republicans' slate are in practice, the same political party-in-fact. The error of the better aspect of the Democratic Party's leadership, is their mistaken reluctance to admit that the Obama faction of the Democratic Party, is just as much a Hitler-like expression of fascism as are the worst among the Republicans of this moment. Therefore, only the ouster of the mentally disqualified President Obama, could free the United States from what would become, very rapidly, the worst existential nightmare in all U.S.A. history to date.

The result of that misunderstanding not only represents an awful mistake among the credulous; it will be made clear, very soon, to those misguided voters who thought that the Republicans would be a lesser evil, that the error of misunderstanding, into which they were misled, is to be regarded as an ungodly mistake on their own part. Voting against those whom you had happened to hate the most, only to join the cause of an even worse enemy, is not necessarily a wise choice, as those voters may be greatly pained to see soon.

The danger in that pattern of behavior, is, that the public reaction to the mass-murderous atrocities pushed by such elements within the new Congress, may turn out as producing the eruption of a seething mass of "Jacobin-like" rage and chaos which our nation might not survive. In the situation at this present moment, the worst of all choices would be for the Democrats to seek some form of morally tainted reconciliation with the fascist element within a Republican party allied with the explicitly fascist ("creative destructionist") austerity-programs of an implicitly criminally insane, Nero-like (and also "Bush-like"), President Barack Obama..

After all, it was the grandfather of George W. Bush, Jr., Prescott Bush of Brown Brothers Harriman, who rescued Adolf Hitler financially in time for Hitler to take over Germany. The certain recurring elements of occasionally expressed consistency among the three successive generations of Bush-Leaguers on this account, has not been, so far, to be seen as a coincidental effect.

In the meantime, the chief guilt for bringing that frankly fascist sort of nominally Republican scheme into existence, lies with a Democratic Party which had almost destroyed itself by capitulating to the fact of the assassinations of President Kennedy and his brother Robert, and thus brought, step by step, over intervening decades, to tolerate, today, the already Hitler-like, fascist program of nominally Democratic President Barack Obama.

Meanwhile, in all of this, as at those times, has been the fact that I was the only intellectually qualified U.S. Presidential candidate for U.S. President in the 1988 election, with respect to the conditions of the U.S. economy since the interval from the 1987 time of financial-market "crash," through the impending Presidency of George H. W. Bush, when I was being sent to prison on a politically motivated and politically crafted indictment.

Now, if the combined, frankly fascist agendas of both virtual Republican President Barack Obama and the new Republican House of Representatives majority, is carried out, not only is our United States being virtually destroyed in a most treasonous way, but the chain-reaction-like result of the imminently threatened, British-orchestrated, hyper-inflationary disintegration of the U.S.A., would ensure a general breakdown and virtual disintegration of all of the nations of the planet, that in rapid and short order now.

So much for the fabled "magic of the marketplace," whether in matters of finance, or the market-place for justice. Given those facts, the question ought to be: what is the underlying force of evil which lurks among them?
