

THE GENERAL FORECAST

LYNDON H. LAROUCHE, JR.

June 20, 2011 - We are at the brink of a global, chain-reaction collapse of the present international, trans-Atlantic system. A probable date for this, unless the Glass-Steagall law of 1933 is restored by emergency legislation, is a date presently scheduled in the U.S.A. for about July 10, 2011, or, at whatever time the Constitutional closing date for the resolution of the date of the states' reckoning on the resolution of their part in the matter.

In any case, the present world system will go into a collapse unless the 1933 Glass-Steagall law is enacted. Even if adjustments of the deadline were shifted by some fraudulent pretext in the name of Constitutional law which might affect the exact date of the chain-reaction collapse, the attempted shift of the date of the deadline would only slightly delay what were otherwise inevitable.

For precisely that reason, the foolish declaration from the U.S. Senate has put us in this bind, by postponing the action for removal of President Barack Obama. If the Senate wishes to make me the "folk hero" they have feared I might become, nothing will help them, or the present trans-Atlantic system, were the Senate's Democratic leadership to fail to take the option which they have failed to enact.

This is an understandable mental weakness among otherwise respectable leaders in the Senate. They have been disoriented by the reality that they tend to consider political decisions as like competitions which season the attention of politics as like a sports-field, rather than serious government concerned with the destiny of a nation and nations. That was the Senate leadership when it should have acted properly on the matter of the impeachment of the incumbent President. Children rooting for sports-teams, rather than the fate of nations.

OBAMA WHITE HOUSE CAUGHT IN PLANNED MASSIVE DIRTY OPERATIONS AGAINST LAROUCHE

June 21st, 2011 - Senior U.S. intelligence officials, along with leading figures within the Democratic Party, have warned that the Obama White House is in the process of launching a massive dirty operations campaign against Lyndon LaRouche and associates. These warnings come in the context of the accelerating unraveling of the Obama Presidency, driven by his clearly impeachable conduct in evading Congress' exclusive Constitutional authority to declare war in the current Libya case.

Senior U.S. intelligence officials pointedly warned that the Obama White House and campaign organization are in the process of conducting a major campaign against LaRouche and associates, and is pressing for support in this effort from leading political figures in the Democratic Party. Over the end of last week, Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid, Senator Barbara Boxer and House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi all came out publicly defending President Obama's flagrant violation of the U.S. Constitution Article I Section 8, and the War Powers Act, knowing full well that he had committed an impeachable offense.

Leading Democratic Party figures explained this bizarre behavior from the standpoint that the Democrats fear that the demise of President Obama will bring Lyndon LaRouche to the fore as the only serious political leader who dared speak the truth about Obama and his British controllers. So, in effect, Reid, Boxer and Pelosi fell on the sword, in defending the President's indefensible behavior on the Libya war, out of fear of LaRouche's emergence as a folk hero and a leader of a movement for a revolutionary change in U.S. policy—beginning with the passage of the Glass-Steagall restoration, now pending before the House in H.R. 1489. This act of near political suicide on the part of Reid, Boxer and Pelosi was one of the first public signals that the White House has launched illegal operations against the LaRouche organization.

This is deadly serious business. Both the intelligence community and Democratic Party sources conveyed their reports out of a deep sense of patriotism, and out of the recognition that if the Office of the Presidency is deployed to suppress LaRouche's voice at this critical juncture, the United States is doomed, and the rest of civilization goes down as well.

With the entire European Monetary Union on the verge of disintegration, with leading European governments on the edge of collapse, starting with the Merkel government in Germany, and with Wall Street bracing for the trans-Atlantic financial tsunami to hit, LaRouche's demands for the immediate reinstatement of Glass-Steagall—before the July 4th celebrations—is gaining tremendous traction, with increasing institutional support from the labor movement, civil rights organizations and others. It is precisely for this reason that the Obama White House and campaign team have embarked on a reckless and illegal campaign of dirty tricks and reprisals.

Much more will be flushed out concerning this criminal operation by the Obama forces over the coming days. For the time being, these essential facts speak for themselves.
