I think the only way we could put [REDACTED] on Epstein is if we have it worked out that she is coming here this summer – that would involve her agreement plus full buy-in from [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. If that is the case, then the fallout from adding her is minimal because (1) she is in VOC, which is a unit where it makes sense to have an assistant on this case to begin with; and (2) word will get out that she is coming here. I would dispatch [REDACTED] to tell her that we were only open to it if it were confirmed she was coming here.

Canvassing the list, the other people we could add would be [REDACTED], [REDACTED], or [REDACTED]. I sense [REDACTED] would not be thrilled about [REDACTED], and I don't feel the need to add [REDACTED] to anything significant right now, so I would probably say [REDACTED].
