Thanks [REDACTED] I made that clarification (which was implicit but better to be clear).

[REDACTED]

I might just say that we intend to implement a privilege review of materials for which that would be appropriate—for example, I believe that the FBI takes the view that photos do not need to be reviewed for privilege in the first instance. But otherwise sounds fine, and happy to discuss that further if useful.

thanks,

[REDACTED], [REDACTED],

Marty just reached out to me and wants to provide me with Epstein's list of counsel as long as I agree not to share it with the case team without his consent and that we implement a privilege review of the materials seized from Epstein. So unless you want to discuss, I plan to agree to the former and confirm the latter. I ran it by [REDACTED] just to be safe.

Thanks, [REDACTED]

Marty, Mike,

Following up on our conversation this afternoon via phone, I wanted to put you in touch directly with [REDACTED], who is the Office's Privilege Review Logistic Coordinator. I know you have been interested in providing us with privilege-related information in connection with our review process; please feel free to contact Ms. [REDACTED] directly to facilitate that. She is available at the email address copied here.

thank you,

[REDACTED].
